GRASSROOTS MOVEMENT MOUNTS TO KEEP POPULAR MINDEN DOCTOR

A grassroots protest over the recent dismissal by Brady Medical Services of popular Dr. Jeff Lodenquai swept through Minden Tuesday as hundreds vowed to keep their 'doc' in the community.

And just to make sure no one misunderstood their intent they quickly put their names to a special petition to be presented to Minden Council today.

The petition seeks the support of council in the relocation of Dr. Lodenquai in his own Minden practice as Minden's second doctor and in no way reflects on Dr. Brady.

Dr. Lodenquai first came to Minden to practice last December where his abilities quickly won him widespread respect and affection.

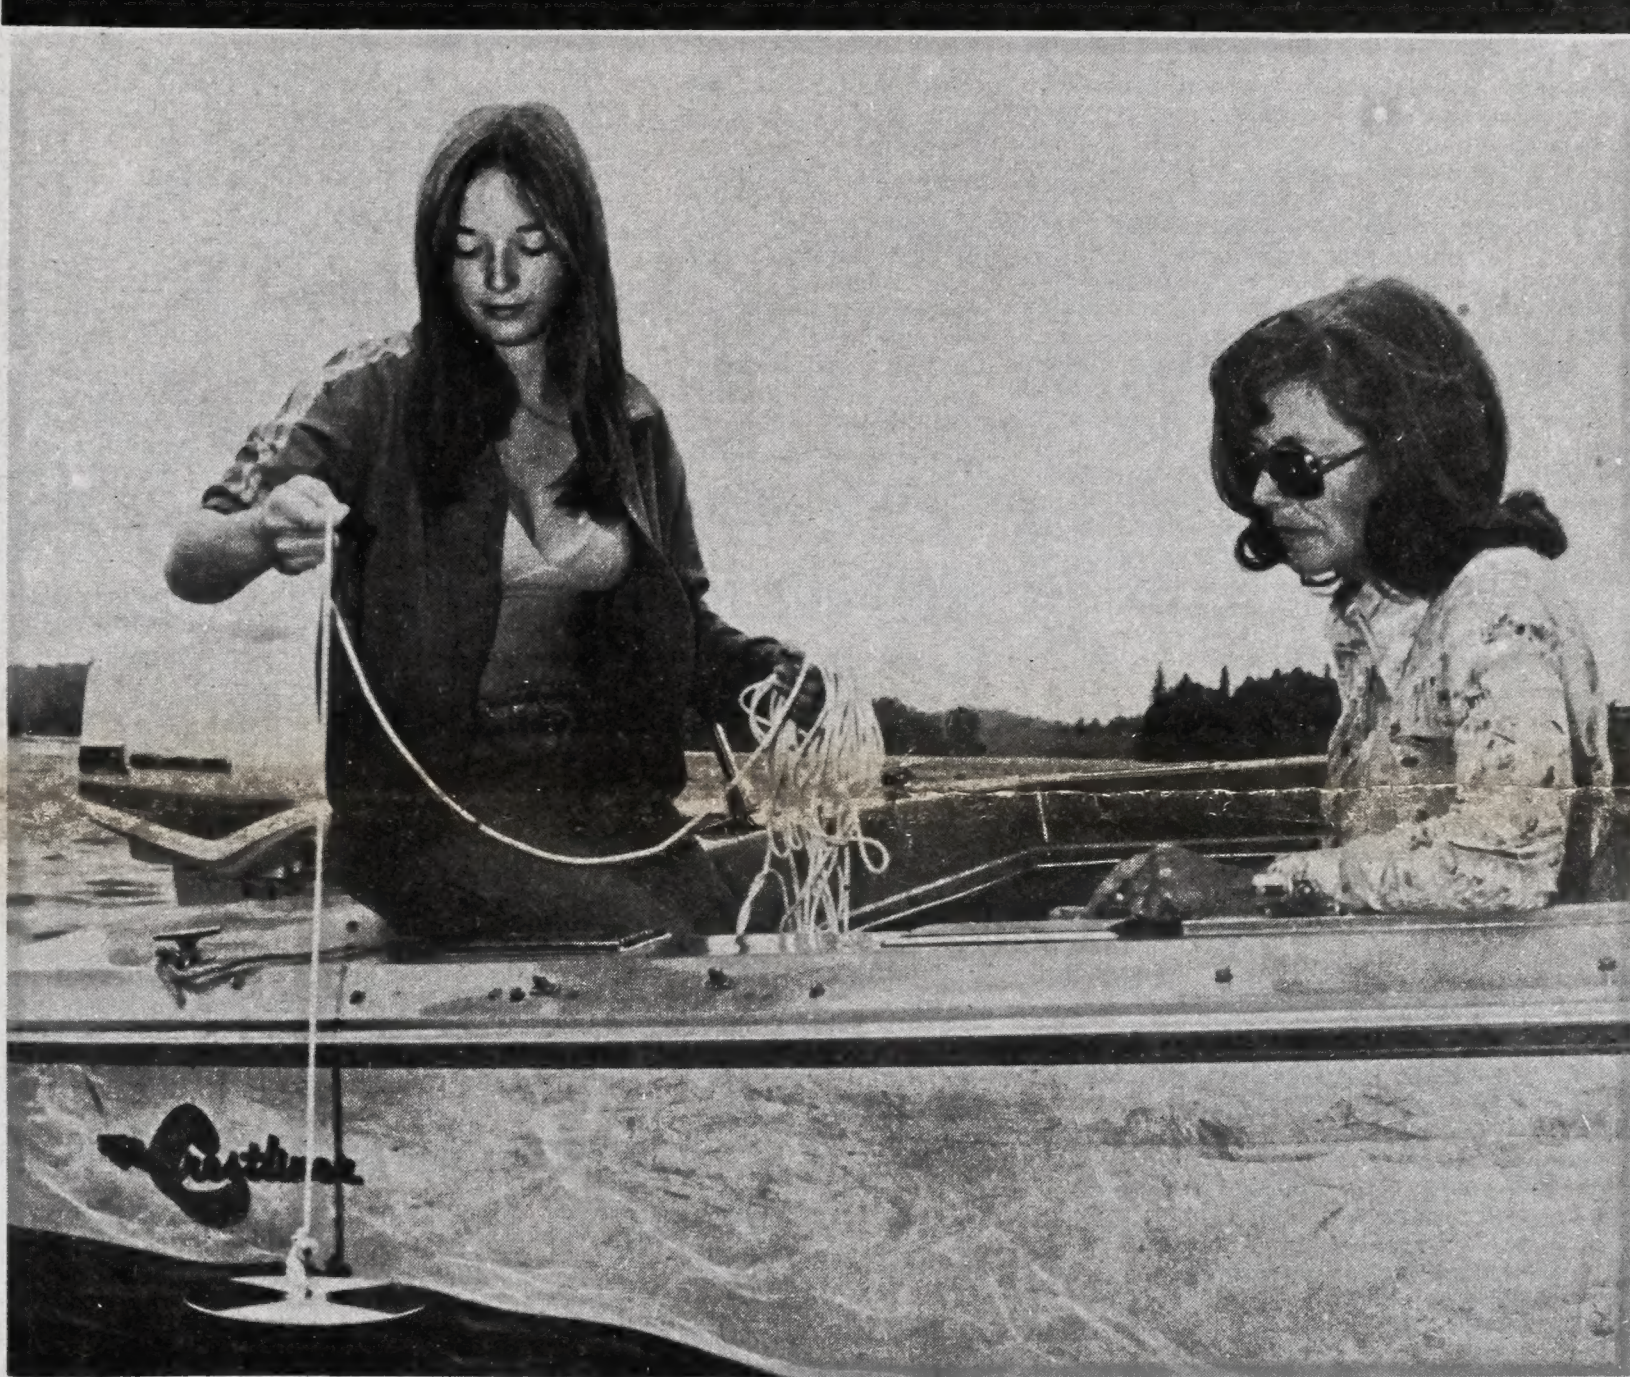

Dropped by the Brady clinic just last Friday, he was quickly joined by the clinic's entire nursing and office staff who walked off the job Monday.

According to Dr. Pat Brady, head of Brady Medical Services, Dr. Lodenquai was dismissed for continuing to practice acupuncture despite repeated warnings that it would not be permitted.

Commenting on the petition Dr. Brady pointed out that if a second medical practice opened in Minden he would be unable to open his Minden medical centre planned for the future. He cited changing costs vs. revenue figures as the main reason.

According to Mrs. Ada Campbell, former member of the clinic's nursing staff, the petition was 'a spontaneous thing, a word-of-mouth reaction to the firing of Dr. Lodenquai.'

Mrs. Campbell was quick to point out that there was no desire to 'split up' the community. 'We just want Jeff to stay', she said.

Testing...Testing

That relatively new phenomenon, testing for water pollutants certainly seems to be on the increase. Here in Haliburton County it proceeds apace each year as increasingly precise means of spotting and measuring minute degrees of water pollutants are developed. But wherever you plan to test water for pollution, be it the Haliburtons, the Kawarthas, the Muskokas, you name it, the water must still be gathered in the same old-fashioned way, as these gals are doing, in order to turn all your fancy science loose on it. Reassuring isn't it!

Stanhope councilor drowns

A well-known area man and three-year Stanhope councilor drowned in Little Hawk Lake early Sunday morning, scant feet from his own dock. Dead is John Derek Tomlinson, 65.

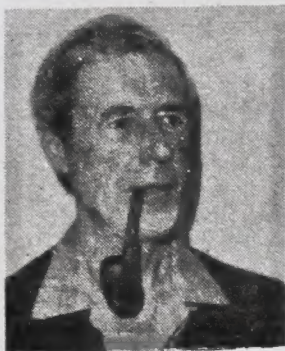

According to police Mr. Tomlinson had been visiting friends Saturday evening and had left for his cottage home shortly after midnight. A neighbouring cottage, Rod-at his cottage, but just minutes earlier the hospital's front office had been wrecked after his assailant pursued him to Minden where he'd gone for first aid.

ney Gilbert, 56, of Scarborough told police he heard the deceased man's boat idling around 1 a.m. Sunday morning.

Some six hours later that same morning Gilbert noticed the boat still running and went out to check. He found no signs of Mr. Tomlinson in his cottage nor on the grounds but found the deceased's boat had drifted onto shore.

Moments later Gilbert found Mr. Tomlinson's body floating in some 8 feet of water, about 15 feet from shore and just 40 feet from his dock. Stanhope Clerk-Treasurer

John Tomlinson

Gerald Bain termed Mr. Tomlinson's death as 'quite a shock'.

The Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce

In connection with last week's news release from the Chamber we would like to clarify one important point. When we suggested that there may be quite a number of lakes in the same condition as Koshlong we were also stressing that there is really nothing wrong with the condition of Koshlong. Mercury was found there only in older lake trout and in small enough quantities not to be considered dangerous. Natural Resources employees have voiced the opinion that this is not due to pollution of any kind but a natural phenomema caused by the rock formations in this area. If this is the case the condition has always been with us and probably always will be.

The Haliburton Guild of Fine Arts have certainly outdone themselves this year at their exhibition and sale being held currently at the Senior Elementary School. Not only is there an excellent display of crafts created by many of our local people but also crafts and demonstrations presented by artists of some considerable esteem from outside the area. If you haven't already visited the show you still have a few days left as it runs for the balance of this week.

The Chamber has prepared a poster listing all the main events happening throughout the summer and have distributed a number of these to our members to post on their bulletin boards to advise tourists in the area of the many things to see and do. If you have a place to display one of these posters and we have not delivered one to you yet, please drop in at the Chamber office and pick one up. Haliburton Highlands tartan is presently in very short supply, and the Chamber must once again consider bringing in a new stock from Scotland. Tartan ordered now will arrive some time next December. The Chamber would appreciate it is anyone planning large purchases of the tartan would please contact our office immediately and advise us of their intentions.

The Wilberforce Country Good Times Silver Jubilee celebrations are coming up July 22, 23 and 24th. Folks around Monmouth Township are gaining a considerable reputation for producing top notch events of this nature. This year's Good Times includes a giant parade, a midway, helicopter rides, displays of local crafts, an amateur contest, dance, a silver jubilee ball, a horse draw contest, cake breakfast, beer gardens and a new feature this year, a trade exhibit. Following hot on the heels of this event is the Minden Rotary Carnival with their parade starting things off on July 27th. Letters are presently being circulated asking for participation in this parade and we do hope that our business communities will get behind it and see that it is a large success.

Rooms have somewhat been disrupted at our office and welcome centre during the past week. Our Young Canada Works staff have been busy painting and remodelling and due to the somewhat inclement weather have been concentrating on the interior for the past week. The building is now looking bright and new and clean both inside and out and sports sixteen feet of brand new counter just inside the door which provides 48 feet of literature rack for the perusal of our visitors. The girls have been busy phoning our members to ensure they have a supply of literature in our office to display in these racks, and we do urge you to keep a good supply on hand with us so that we can attempt to do a good job for you.

Another Young Canada Works program that is directly involved in tourism is the Kinsmen Project on the Harburn Natural Wells. This project, although far from being complete, is well worth the trip for anyone wishing to see this natural phenomenon. Drive out the Harburn Road, go past Haliburton Lodge approximately two miles to Ritchie Lake. You will find a small clearing here in which to park on your left and a short walk up a fairly steep hill at which point you will find a product of nature which at this point has still not been explained.

We are extremely pleased this week to welcome into our business community Tony and Joyce Pennick who have just purchased Sun Valley Cottages and Restaurant just north of Minden on Hwy. 35, overlooking Mountain Lake. Tony and Joyce have moved here from the Hamilton area and are working very hard on their new venture. Do drop in for a coffee and say hello and make them welcome. This week's 'Tip of the Hat' goes to Dominion Department Store in Haliburton and in particular its owner Grant Ray. Grant was recently honored by the executive of the Haliburton minor hockey association for his many, many years of work which he had provided for their benefit. Anyone who can devote as much time as Grant has to running an up-to-date modern retail business which is a credit to his town, and still have time and effort left over to devote to community efforts certainly deserves a 'Tip of the Hat.'

Stood and yelled -hit anyway

He stood up and waved his arms, he yelled, and finally, he jumped overboard...just moments before the 50 h.p. boat pulling a water skier smashed into his 14-foot aluminum boat.

As a result, 17 year-old Gary Joel Swayze of R. R. 1 Bimbrook escaped unhurt while the driver of the other boat, John Douglas Morrison 25, of Port Credit, suffered a cut hand.

The incident occurred on Salerno Lake around 8 p.m. last Sunday when Swayze stopped his 5.5 horsepower motor to tighten the motor clamps.

Damage to the Morrison boat has been estimated at $100, however, no figures are available for the Swayze craft's damages.

Meanwhile, police have charged Morrison with failing to keep a proper lookout. Investigation by Provincial Constable Mike Legge.

Conservation program for Ontario students

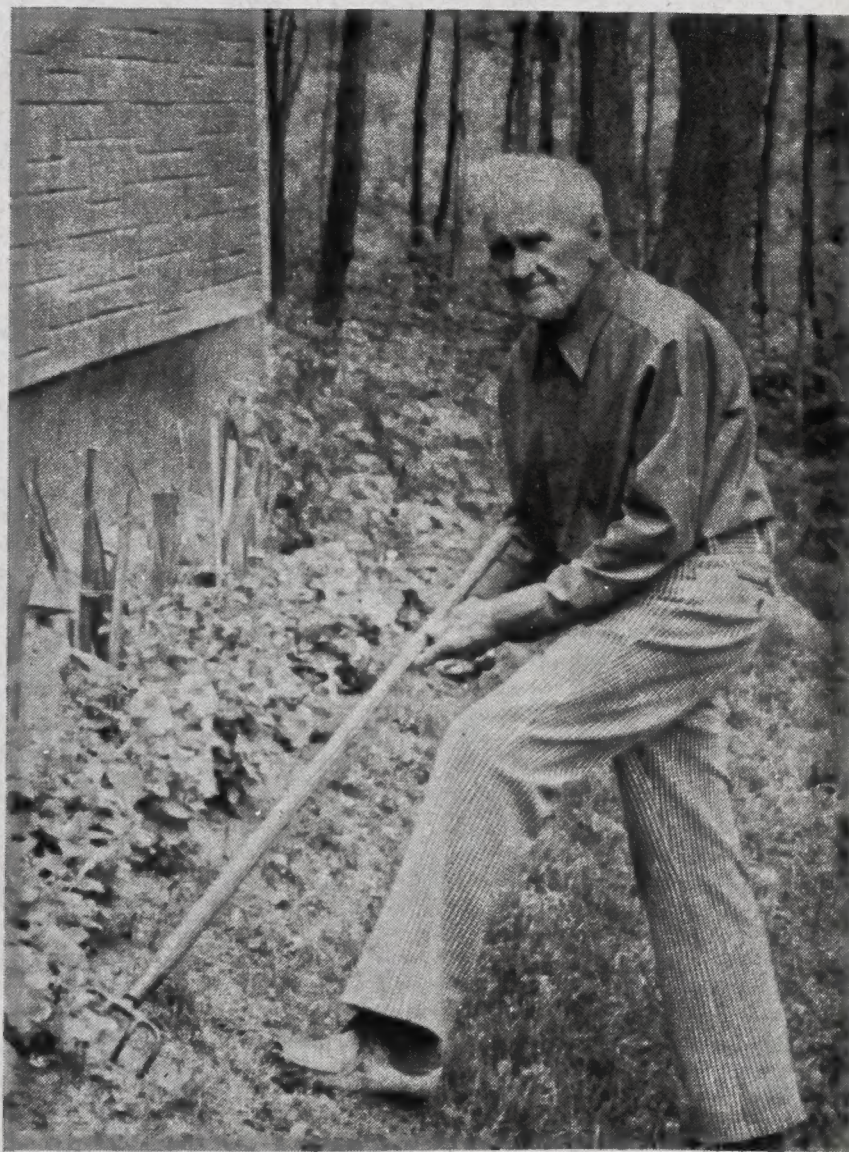

Eight Ontario Students are participating in a six-week work-learning conservation program beginning this week and running through next week at the Leslie M. Frost Natural Resource Centre near Dorset and the Boyd Field Centre near Woodbridge.

The Junior Conservationist Award is designed to give participating students, aged 16-18, a basic understanding of conservation values and an education in technical conservation skills. Funded by the Ontario Government and operated through the Ministry of Natural Resources, the program consists of a week-long orientation program held at the Frost Centre from June 26 to July 2 and at the Boyd Field Centre, from July 2 to July 6.

Students are given instruction in geology, wildlife planning, wildlife investigation and water quality testing. To put their lessons to practical use, they are sent to field areas to acquire first-hand knowledge of each particular area of study.

At the end of the orientation week, the participants go to one of the watershed areas in Southern Ontario where they undertake field studies for the next five weeks. The final outcome of the program is a published report written entirely by the students. The Junior Conservationist program was established in 1965 to bolster public awareness of conservation aspects the participants receive a grounding in conservation issues and values and attend lectures dealing with natural resources related topics.

90 years young

A spry Edward B. Fielding, seen above, recently celebrated his 90th birthday at his home in Ingoldsby. Mr. Fielding was born and raised in the Minden area where he has lived all his life. He was born in 1887 in a house beside the present Beaver Theatre in Minden and in 1911 married Edna Baker, who passed away in 1968 after 58 years of married bliss. After his marriage, Mr. Fielding farmed for four years on land that now houses the Beaverbrook Golf Course in Minden. He then moved to Ingoldsby to continue farming where he is a 25-year member of the Ingoldsby United Church, which he still attends to this day. Mr. Fielding built and operated the Ingoldsby Store for 10 years until his daughter took over and ran it for another 12 years when it was then sold to Frank Dunsford. It is still standing today and is now known as O'Bies General Store. Mr.

Fielding still grows a small garden every year and attributes his long life to being active. He says he doesn't smoke but does take the occasional social drink. He boasts a family of three sons, three daughters, 14 grandchildren and 5 great grandchildren. And for an historical note it was Mr. Fielding's grandfather, Frederick S. Burt, who built Minden's Anglican Church.

"Rethink" your attitude, Eakins asks Tourism's Bennett

Victoria-Haliburton M.P.P. John Eakins announced last week that he has asked Industry and Tourism Minister Claude Bennett to 'rethink his attitude toward this province's two tourist seasons' and... 'reverse the decreasing trend we have experienced in terms of both visitors and revenues in the last few years.'

Mr. Eakins cited figures showing that the number of visitors to Ontario in the first quarter of 1977 was down 8 per cent over the first quarter of 1976, which, Eakins pointed out, was a disastrous year for tourism in Ontario.

The Liberal Industry and Tourism critic also noted that the number of Ontarians choosing to travel outside of Canada has been increasing by an average of 8.5 per cent every year since 1974.

Mr. Eakins said he informed Mr. Bennett earlier in the week of this situation and 'unbelievably his reply was that we have a 'climatic condition in this province' that may not present as favourable an opportunity to tourists as in other parts of the continent.'

'That is simply unacceptable to me,' said Mr. Eakins. 'In effect this province has two tourist seasons and to all but write off our winter season due to inclement weather is an abrogation of one of the Minister's prime responsibilities.'

Mr. Eakins agreed that last year's slump in tourism was largely due to factors beyond the Minister's control, citing the U.S. Bicentennial and the Montreal Olympics as prime examples.

'But to tolerate a further decline this year over last year is simply unacceptable to me and I intend to keep right on top of the latest figures in our tourism market to ensure that the Minister is doing all he can to recapture for this province the tourist dollars we have been deprived of and that we so desperately need in order to restore vitality to our all-important tourist trade,' stated Eakins.

Also present at the council meeting were company President Ken Thaler and company Accountant Dennis Wood.

All agreed that most of the credit had to go to Mr. Eakins' hard work in procuring this new and welcome industry.

'Without the tireless work of John Eakins this industry would not have come to Haliburton,' said a happy Economic Development Commission Chairman Bob Bishop.

Dysart Reeve Murray Fear-

rey said that he was 'really gratified.' 'I can't say how happy I am on having Thaler Industries coming to Haliburton. We will offer you all the help we can give you to get started.'

Terming it a 'red letter day' in the County, Dysart councillor Roy Brohm said, 'we have been seeking a clean industry for the area for a number of years and we have 75 to 100 men who are available for employment in the County. I am very pleased to see this industry come to our County, with all my heart.'

Measles leave youth paralyzed

Washago--Has your child been vaccinated for red measles? A Washago mother asks this question of other parents as her son lies in critical condition in hospital from measles complications.

Stephen Gelineau, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gelineau, (nee Doreen Harrison), of the Haliburton County Harrisons, Washago, is confined to Toronto General Hospital with encephalitis, an inflammation of the brain, after - effect of red measles.

Stephen developed measles June 4, after his sister, Diane, 15, had them over the May 24th weekend. On June 7 he was admitted to Soldiers' Memorial Hospital Orillia with a temperature of 105. After 10 days he was taken to Toronto by ambulance where he remains in a semi-conscious condition. He is paralyzed and can only move his right hand. He can hear but cannot talk, his mother said Friday.

Although Stephen has no infection in his body now, his temperature still goes up to 105 F, she said. Mrs. Gelineau said Toronto neurologists told her Stephen's case is one in 1,000 as there are as many kinds of encephalitis as there are viruses. There is no treatment now known. One of Stephen's specialists in Toronto said he has a 50-50 chance of surviving. The attending neurologist said he has a 30-70 chance. Should he survive, after all this time with a high temperature, his chances of a complete recovery are almost nil.

'Paralysis has set in his body, due to the swelling of the brain cells, and the only thing left for him is prayer and faith,' Mrs. Gelineau said.

The Gelineau family moved to Washago from Lauzon Rd. in Windsor in October, 1975. Stephen's father suffered a nervous breakdown in May, 1970 and had to leave Chrysler Canada Ltd. in Windsor where he had been employed as a journeyman electrician since 1952.

Stephen, formerly a student at the Orillia District Collegiate and Institute, planned to enter Georgian College of Applied Arts and Sciences in Barrie this fall to take a course in hotel and restaurant management.

According to police, Carl McLaughlin, 84, of Don Mills and his son were playing cards at the Boshkung Lake cottage with neighbours Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCann of Weston, when a family row broke out and Mr. McLaughlin Sr., was cut by flying glass.

Taken to Minden's Red Cross Hospital by Mr. McCann, he was undergoing emergency treatment when the still angry son also arrived at the hospital.

Police say that when nurses Audrey Northy and Hazel Maxwell refused to let the pursuit continue beyond the office-waiting room area the hospital's telephone was ripped out, nurse Northy was spat on and a shoe thrown at her while a ransacking rampage overturned chairs, tables and files. Six windows were broken.

Understandably embarrassed at the savage disruption of the hospital's carefully preserved operational serenity, hospital officials refused to discuss the incident while nurses said they had been instructed to say nothing. Charged by police with assault causing bodily harm, common assault and public mischief, George McLaughlin was jailed overnight in Minden.

Stitched up and released from hospital, Mr. McLaughlin Sr., arrived at Minden O.P.P. headquarters with Mr. McCann the next day to procure his son's release.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Al Bibby.

Homeowners: Beware of home repair "rip-off artists"! Here are things you can do to protect yourself.

If you are considering home repairs:

- Do not let someone talk you into doing work you weren't planning to have done.
- Always obtain estimates from several reliable firms.
- Insist that all details be written into the contract before you sign—including the type and amount of work to be done, any extras, and the total cost.
- Keep the down payment to an absolute minimum.
- Never pay in full until the work is finished to your complete satisfaction.
- If financing is necessary, arrange it yourself with a bank or reputable finance company.

In addition, your Provincial government wants you to know what your rights are under the Consumer Protection and Business Practices Acts.

- The Consumer Protection Act allows you to cancel any contract, to be performed and paid for in the future and signed in your home, if you send a registered letter within 48 hours of signing—even though work has already started.

- The Business Practices Act provides fines and jail terms for people who deliberately deceive, mislead or lie to consumers.

Sad loss

John Tomlinson will be greatly missed.

His tragic death by drowning early last Sunday morning posed a great loss for many.

Certainly, he will be greatly missed by Stanhope Township and its council on which he served.

Although a member for just the past three years, Mr. Tomlinson was a tireless worker and a key committee man who gave unstintingly of his time and expertise to his council and municipality. Reeve Sinc Nesbitt summed it up when he said 'to replace him is impossible'.

Hob-nobbing

We now read and hear, too, that Toronto reporter Gerald Utting, while still in the clutches of Uganda's Idi Amin, is neverthe less safe and sound.

Mr. Utting, you will recall, disappeared last month almost as soon as he set foot in Uganda. Now, say news reports, he's really been hob-nobbing these many weeks with Old-Bone-In-The-Nose himself at Amin's summer home.

Reports go on to say that M. r. Utting has lost considerable weight during this period due to the tough regimen he has had to follow in Uganda.

Obviously, from Idi Amin's figure, he has been spending all that time with his Canadian guest.

Congratulations

Congratulations are certainly in order for the Haliburton Guild of Fine Arts.

Once again the Guild has staged an outstanding Summer Exhibition and Sale with the many and varied articles ably demonstrating the skills and talents of its members.

Congratulations.

Report from Parliament

by

William Scott M.P.

On Thursday, January 27th of this year, William C. Scott, M.P., Victoria-Haliburton, moved a Motion in the House of Commons under Standing Order 26 to attempt to force a debate on the question of the future of Canadian Confederation.

At that time, Mr. Scott and his seconder, moved to adjourn the House for the purpose of discussing a specific and urgent matter regarding urgent consideration, namely, the failure of the Prime Minister to tell the House and the Canadian people what steps the Government proposed to take to counter the threat to Canadian Confederation posed by the separatist government in Quebec. Regrettably, the Motion was not allowed, and thus, no debate on Canadian unity was held at that time.

This week, however, under increasing pressure by opposition parties, the Government finally agreed to give up a Wednesday afternoon for the discussion of this urgent and pressing problem. The Conservative Party, feeling that a debate should have been held much earlier, agreed to give up one of its opposition days and, thus, a two-day debate was held on Tuesday and Wednesday, July 5th and 6th.

During Question Period on the 6th of July, and in answer to a question posed by Miss Flora MacDonald, Allen MacEachen, the Government House Leader maintained that he was the first individual to bring to the attention of the House the need to discuss the question of national unity. He also mentioned that Opposition members had many opportunities to bring this before the House but had failed to do so.

The record, however, shows completely the opposite and this matter became a question of Privilege in the House earlier this week. Mr. Walter Baker, Conservative House Leader raised the question of Privilege and indicated that in fact the Government was in error. To prove his reasoning, Mr. Baker maintained that the question was first brought to the attention of the House of Commons by the Honourable Member for Victoria-Haliburton on January 27, 1977. He also pointed out that Mr. Diefenbaker had raised the question on April 18th and, prior to that, Mr. Roche had demanded that it be discussed on March 30th. Regrettably, Mr. MacEachen ignored the facts and maintained that his original statement still was accurate. In reply, Mr. Scott rose to speak on the question and set the record quite clear by reading the actual passage from Hansard for January 27th, which indicated that he in fact had demanded a national debate but it had been disallowed.

Report from Queen's Park

John Eakins, M.P.P.

Facing almost certain defeat by the combined Opposition Parties on its proposed pop-can tax, the Government dropped the bill from its list of priority items. No indication has been given that this bill will be reintroduced in the Fall Session. The tax measure, first proposed in the April Budget, was expected to raise some $20 million in provincial revenue. Now that the legislation has been scrapped, the Government will be forced to make spending cuts equivalent to $20 million in programs of various ministries to avoid exceeding the $1 billion deficit expected for this year. Revenue shortfalls of about $140 million beyond April Budget forecasts have already become apparent.

The other Budget bills have now been passed. The Liberal Party amended the Retail Sales Tax Act bill, and we opposed both the Tobacco Tax Act and the Corporations Tax Act amendments.

Approval has been given to a change in Ontario speed limits from miles to kilometres, effective September 6th. Provincial work crews will begin making the changes after Labour Day, putting stick-on signs bearing the new markings over existing road signs. Thirty mph becomes 50 kph (31.2 mph) 35 and 40 mph become 60 kph (37.5 mph), 45 mph becomes 70 kph (43.7 mph) 50 mph converts exactly to 80 kph, 55 mph becomes 90 kph (56.2 mph) and 60 mph becomes 100 kph (62.5 mph).

Although the change becomes law on 6th September, the metric speed limits will not become effective until the new signs are in place. In the meantime, existing speed limits will be enforced. During debate on the bill, the Minister of Transportation and Communications agreed to have Highway 69 approaching Sudbury, which at present has a 50 mph speed limit, converted to 90 kph, the metric equivalent of 55 mph, which will place the highway on the same footing as Highway 11 between Huntsville and North Bay, kept at 55 mph when the province's other two lane highways were given the 50 mph limit. Highway 11 is part of the Trans-Canada Highway, and the federal government wanted a uniform 55 mph limit across the country.

The Government was strongly criticized by both Opposition Parties during debate on second reading of the bill setting up a new Ministry of Northern Affairs. Northern Ontario MPPs with both the Liberal and New Democratic Parties took the opportunity to air longstanding complaints about what they termed southern indifference to the problems of the North.

Liberal Pat Reid (Rainy River) said also that the Government's recent move to lower the cost of car licences to a flat $10 in Northern Ontario is only a cosmetic measure, because it does not affect half-ton trucks, pointing out that it is well known that 'half the population of Northern Ontario drive half-ton trucks'.

Stuart Smith, Leader of the Liberal Party, has accused the Government of 'making huge profits' and becoming 'champion speculators' in its programme to sell single-family lots to builders in Scarborough's Malvern Development for $33,000 - eleven times what the land cost the province to acquire and hold it.

Speaking in the Legislature, he told the Ministry of Housing that the government's position makes it impossible for builders to supply homes under the AHOP programme - which sets an upper house limit of $47,000. The Minister admitted that the land is being sold and promised to investigate. Dr. Smith subsequently pointed out that the province bought 1,704 acres in 1953 and, as of 1972, the cost to the province per acre - including buying price and overhead - was $2,767. He said the government should 'deliberately depress' the prices and let the lots on the market all at once 'rather than in dribs and drabs as any speculator would.' He does not agree with the government's position that it makes money on this property and uses the profit in other public ventures. If there is going to be a 'windfall' to anyone, 'it should be to the person who buys the home' he said.

Primeval Thoughts

by JIM SMITH

Several million years ago, the earth was covered with strange flora and fauna, some spectacularly large, others microscopically small. All of them are dead now.

Over the eons, the forces of nature converted that prehistoric vegetation into gas and oil. And, today, various governments and shareholders in petroleum companies are converting those same plant remains into cold cash. Isn't science wonderful?

Well, maybe not all that wonderful. The extra dollars to meet higher pump prices announced late in June are coming out of the earnings of those of us who have no allies among the prehistoric deceased. But we could all use a friend in the petroleum business; over the next two years, the wellhead price for domestic crude oil and natural gas will go up by 41 per cent.

For anyone associated with the oil business, this is news to set the heart racing with anticipation. The additional receipts — and we're talking about hundreds of millions of dollars — will be split up amongst governments and oil companies. The producing provinces — primarily Alberta — will take 47.5% of the increase. The federal government will pick up 27.5%. And the oil companies will get the remaining 25%. Who says there's no Santa Claus?

This is what the federal government calls a "petroleum policy". It is a policy to provide considerably more government revenue. It is a policy to dramatically increase profits in the oil industry. But it certainly isn't a policy to ease Canada out of the energy crunch.

The catch is fundamental: it isn't enough to say that higher prices will reduce energy consumption. Some provision must also be made for exploration and development of new oil fields. Research funds must be made available for discovering new sources of energy. The Canadian Federation of Independent Business, for example, has been stressing the desirability of a balanced approach to the energy problem. The Federation emphasizes that more sweeping government policies are needed so that alternate forms of energy — like wind, solar, and improved heat pumps — are developed. Canada needs policies that will encourage smaller businesses with imagination and drive to develop more appropriate energy technology.

None of the additional government revenues have been earmarked for this purpose. Instead, they will flow into general revenues. And the oil companies will not be forced to invest in more exploration and development of oil.

Presumably, Canada cannot avoid being forced into the OPEC oil price spiral, even for domestically-produced oil. But a comprehensive oil policy would include detailed plans for using those additional funds generated by astronomically higher oil prices to insure against future energy shortages.

Sadly, the thinking behind the current oil "policy" is as primitive as the plants that went into our oil and gas.

CAN MINDEN AFFORD TO LOSE THIS DOCTOR?

In the months that Dr. Lodenquai has practiced in Minden he has gained the confidence and respect of a great many patients and acquaintances.

This man's medical knowledge, professional ethics and old fashioned charm has brought to our village a glimpse of the family doctor we all felt might be a thing of the past.

Minden is weary and discouraged, when time and time again good doctors come to our community only to leave again in six to twelve months. Finally we have a doctor who would like to make his home and practice in Minden. I trust circumstances will permit him to stay and we the people of Minden and area will let it be known that another permanent doctor in town is needed and wanted.

Trent-severn Waterway News

Traffic on the Waterway for the week ending June 19 was still up slightly with a year to date total of 17,288 boat movements compared to 16,638 for the same period in 1976.

Boaters using the Waterway should now be familiar with the new Speed Limit Signs situated along various sections of the Waterway. In some areas there have been problems with vandals removing or destroying the signs. This is costly, and it also creates hazards because other boaters unaware of a speed limit may travel faster than is safe for that particular section.

Repeated small rainfalls in the past week have kept Kawartha Lakes levels up so that minimal amounts of reservoir water have been required. On July 4, the reservoir storage stood at about 66 per cent having lost only 2 per cent since June 27. During weeks of heavy drawdown, 4 per cent or more is consumed.

This week the reservoir outflows have been reduced a little more and prospects are that it may be another couple of weeks before larger amounts of stored water are required.

Kawartha Lakes outflows down the Otonabee River are still being held between 500 and 600 cubic feet per second.

Hall's Lake News

Doreen Stinson

Quite an influx of Summer people -- some staying on and others just arriving to spend the week-ends. No doubt with the lovely Summer weather which we enjoyed this week-end many will decide to stay on and enjoy the swimming.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Nixon and family from Ann Arbor, Michigan, spent a week with Mr. Nixon's sister, Mrs. Jean Wheeler, at her home on Kushog a week or so ago. Mrs. Sally Rose is now visiting her mother Mrs. Wheeler.

We understand Mr. Arthur Kerr will be showing his lovely coloured slides of New Zealand & Australia at Carnarvon very shortly. If you have not seen them they are well worth making a point of viewing.

A Story Hour for pre-school aged children will be conducted at the new Stanhope Library on Thursdays from 10 a.m. until 11 a.m. during the summer months.

Also, you will be pleased to learn there are now 300 new books on the shelves at the Stanhope Library. 150, 75 of which are Fiction and 75 Non-Fiction and the balance of 150 are books on the rotation system between Stanhope and the other County Libraries. Have you visited the new Library yet? It is a most attractive place with a delightful collection of good books for all ages.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Wretham of Little Hawk Lake are at their cottage again, and have been enjoying Summer life in this area for many, many years.

A pleasant time is anticipated on July 23rd when the family and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Tidey of Burlington will be celebrating their 50th Wedding Anniversary at a dinner party. Congratulations to these folk who have had at least three generations in cottages here at Hall's Lake over the years. Mr. and Mrs. Leon Tidey and their two sons, Walter and Tom with their families, as well as the elder Tidey couple (who have passed on) have all made Hall's Lake their second home. We send our very Best Wishes to Leon and Bernice Tidey!

Mrs. Ruth Nell was one of the many who attended the big re-union at Stouffville the other week-end and reports having had a wonderful time. Mrs. Eleanor Bunker (who, with her husband live in a newly constructed home just North of Minden) was a school friend of Ruth's and they enjoyed renewing their friendship.

Good to have Verna and Arthur Alpeter back at their place on the Hawk Lake for another season, having spent the Winter in their mobile home in Florida.

Mrs. Baird is back in residence at her lakeside cottage and has her daughter and husband and children visiting for a time.

Good to become acquainted with Miss Soo Scott of New Zealand who is a student-guest with Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Morrow of Burlington, now vacationing at their cottage on the Point.

Many will be saddened to hear of the passing of Mr. Edwin Hewitt at Hyland Crest Home in Minden. 'Eddie', as he was affectionately known, was one of the natives of this area, well known for his ready wit and quiet chuckle. Often one would see Eddie walking with his packsack on his back from his stone house back on the Buckslides Road up the Highway to the store to get his few supplies and tobacco. Times were on a cold Sunday he would be waiting outside the church to hand us a bag of parsnips he had grown, for a treat. Latterly Eddie resided at Hyland Crest and only fairly recently became quite ill. He was laid to rest in St. Stephen's Churchyard on Saturday afternoon.

It is hoped there will be an especially good congregation out to the service at St. Stephen's on Sunday July 24th at 3 in the afternoon. Rev. Douglas Brown will be assisted by the Rev. Andrew Hutchison of Mississauga in the service and the dedication of the new bell tower. Mr. William Gliddon will be at the organ. Most, if not all, of the Wheeler family will be arriving to attend since this new Tower has been erected to the fond memory of Mr. Lawrence Wheeler.

Shocking news is the drowning of Mr. John Tomlinson, one of our Councillors. How pleasant it was to have our young people home this past week-end! Rose-mary arrived on Thursday (to visit her favourite dentist in Haliburton) then Bonnie and George arrived along with Nancy Holliday and a little

3 injured in Sunday crash

Three persons received minor injuries in a single vehicle accident early last Sunday morning.

Treated and released from Haliburton hospital were Donna Krilaucius, 21, of Keswick and Carl Oneill, 18, of Bancroft, passengers in a vehicle driven by 21 year-old Katherine MacMillan of Newmarket.

MacMillan was eastbound on Highway 121 near Wilberforce when her car entered the north ditch and struck a rock cut.

MacMillan's 1974 car sustained some $3,500 damage. Investigating officer, Provincial Constable Dennis Potter has charged MacMillan with careless driving and Oneill and Krilaucius with failing to wear a seat-belt.

This was one of five area accidents last week which caused an estimated $10,000 property damage.

A Haliburton man has been charged with failing to remain at the scene of an accident following an early Thursday morning accident. Gooderham driver, Dennis Parnell, had left his 1969 car parked in the Beaconbrook Hotel lot near Haliburton Village but when he returned to his car, sometime later, he found it smashed up. According to police, 42 year-old Carl Strauss of Haliburton backed into Parnell's car, causing some $500 damage to the Parnell car and about $150 damage to his own 1971 car. Investigation by Provincial Constable Weldon Popp. An 82 year-old Minden area man has been charged with failing to yield following a 10 a.m. two vehicle accident last Friday morning. Mary Carnochan, 30, of Port Perry, was northbound on Highway 35, near Minden, when she was in collision with a car driven by William Dugan, 82, of P. R. 1 Minden.

The morning service at Zion United at Carnarvon was well attended with a capacity congregation with the Rev. Mr. Vaughn as Guest Preacher. Several new pieces of church linen were dedicated to the memory of Mr. Norman Brown and Muriel was present for this occasion.

A few guests joined with the regular congregation for the 3 p.m. service at St. Stephen's. Rev. Douglas Brown has returned from his vacation in England and made the announcement that he will shortly be leaving the Parish of Minden to take up work in a monastery in California.

Enjoyed a brief visit Sunday evening with Mrs. Marj Ferguson, Lizzie Johnson and other guests, and later with Rae and Allan Bridgeman at their homey cottage on the other side of the Lake. It is always pleasant to have a chat with people who spend as much time as they can at their Summer homes. Rae is not looking forward to eye surgery but we wish her all the best and hope she will soon be back with better vision to see the beauties of this lovely country.

Thanks to Bob Stinson's quick service we again have a good supply of Leaflets from the Chamber of Commerce. They are very helpful and popular with people discovering the delights of driving about and seeing all the beauty spots and places of business.

Sympathy of the community goes out to the wife and family of Clarence Brooks who passed away at Haliburton Red Cross Hospital on Friday. Mr. Brooks had a market garden at his Hawk Lake Road home.

pulled out in front of the Carnochan vehicle.

Dugan's 1973 car received some $800 damage while the 1967 Carnochan car sustained $900 damage.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Weldon Popp.

A single vehicle accident late Friday evening has caused some $3,500 damage to a 1977 car driven by Leslie Burke, 27, of Minden.

Burke was westbound on the East Line Road near Gelert when his car entered the north ditch and upon regaining the road, rolled over.

Burke has been charged with failing to wear a seat-belt by investigating officer, Provincial Constable Boyd Jarvis.

Meanwhile, a 1:30 a.m. Saturday morning accident has caused some $350 damage to the 1973 car involved.

Twenty-four year-old David J. Roberts of Bomanville was northbound on Highway 35, north of Minden, when his car entered the east ditch and rolled onto its side.

Investigating officer, Provincial Constable Boyd Jarvis has charged Roberts with impaired driving.

Teenagers charged in breakins

Two Toronto area juveniles have been charged with breaking and entering after a Boshkung Lake cottage was broken into last Wednesday. According to police the cottage of Ronald B. Rudling, 44, of Markham was broken into after Rudling had gone out for the evening.

On his return he noticed the lights were on and found a strange piece of clothing. A subsequent investigation by Provincial Constable Roy Telford led to charges against two 15 year-old Toronto area juveniles.

Police officials say that the Pine Lake, West Guilford cottage of George Johnston was broken into and a rifle and a motorcycle were taken. Police also say that a neighbouring cottage was broken into as well, but that nothing was taken.

The stolen property, valued at some $1,375 has been recovered by police.

Robert A. Bodneruk, 16, of Rexdale has been charged with break, enter and theft, possession of stolen goods and a third charge of break and enter by investigating officer, Provincial Constable Ron Buchanan.

Summer Specials

Gazpacho and Caesar Salad

Sometimes, particularly in summer, you want a fantastic salad that can be made ahead of time so that you are at least partially prepared for last minute "drop-ins". Other times, you need a recipe that can be prepared at the table, by someone else, leaving you free to attend to other dinner duties. Food specialists at the Ontario Food Council Ministry of Agriculture and Food have developed two such recipes with these requirements in mind.

One is "Gazpacho", a soup, a cold soup, a salad soup. Make it, put it in a pitcher, and keep it refrigerated. The other is Caesar salad, the salad you may have seen made at your table, in restaurants. It's fun to make, and once your friends see you make it, then taste it, be prepared to share your recipe - it's "very special".

GAZPACHO

Don't make too smooth a puree.

6 tomatoes, peeled, seeded, chopped
1 cucumber (about 1 pound size), peeled, seeded, chopped
1/2 medium onion, peeled, chopped
1/2 green pepper, seeded, chopped
1 garlic clove, crushed
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1/2 cup water
3 tablespoons olive oil
3 tablespoons lemon juice
Sour cream

IN A BOWL COMBINE tomatoes, cucumbers, onion, green pepper, garlic, salt and paprika. Puree the mixture in a blender, in 4 batches, transferring the puree to a bowl. Return part of the puree to the blender, turn the motor on high and add in a stream-water, olive oil, and lemon juice. Combine the lot. Transfer the Gazpacho to a ceramic or glass bowl or a pitcher and chill for at least 3 hours. At serving time, stir the soup well, and pour into chilled dishes. Pass sour cream at the table. Makes 6 to 7 servings (3/4 cup each).

CAESAR SALAD

Get all ingredients ready ahead of time.

1 medium-sized head of Romaine lettuce, washed, dried and torn into bite-size pieces
3 anchovy fillets, diced
1 garlic clove, crushed
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon black pepper
3 tablespoons olive oil
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 egg, boiled 1 minute
6 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese

CROUTONS

2 tablespoons vegetable oil
3 garlic cloves, crushed
2 cups bread cubes (1/2 inch)

In salad bowl mash anchovy fillets, garlic, salt and pepper together (using wooden spoon) until they resemble a paste. Add oil slowly continuing mashing. Add lemon juice; mix well. Add egg, beat well. Add 2 tablespoons of the Parmesan cheese, mix well. Add lettuce, toss to coat. Sprinkle remaining Parmesan cheese and reserved croutons over salad; toss again. Serve immediately.

Transfer to serving bowls or small plates.

Yield: 8 servings

Notice that the small piece of land across from Brandons Residence is being tidied up and the pump there is working well. This was the Richardson spring and was used for many years for drinking water in that part of town and the water was always sparkling and cold.

Recent guests with Mr. and Mrs. S. Blears included Mrs. Jean Button of Toronto and Mr. and Mrs. A. Pearson of Keswick.

Next Monday night sees presentation of 'A Naughtical Revue' at the Haliburton High School Auditorium with live theatre there again.

Last Thursday morning at 10 a.m. saw Story Time begin for the summer with Miss Laurie Brown in charge and this is for preschoolers and older ones.

It's the giving and the doing for somebody else--
On that, all life's splendour depends--
And the joys of this life, when you sum it all up--

Miss Dana Hughes is away on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Blake Hughes and Amy of Mississauga.

Northern Eagle Trailer Park was the setting of a family get together on the occasion of the 42nd wedding anniversary of Mary and Lyman Cox last Sunday. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Ron Cox and family of Peterborough, Mr. and Mrs. Goldie Henderson and family of Roseneath, Mr. and Mrs. Basil Cox and family of Bancroft and from Minden Mr. and Mrs. Garth Horsley and family, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Cox and family and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cox and Mr. and Mrs. Ken Cox. Also Randy and Cindy Adams of Oakville and Debbie and Dan Rylance with two-week old William Daniel, first great grandchild for May and Lyman and first great great grandchild for Vera Cowan and Annie Cox. According to all reports everyone had a grand time. The community joins in sending good wishes to this happy couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Wren Hughes are away on a two-week holiday in Northern Ontario.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Porter were oldest son and family from Kitchener, Allan Porter and also son Bill and wife from Oshawa.

Next Saturday morning starting at 10 a.m. will be the A.C.W. Bazaar Bake Sale and Crafts as well as a raffle of a lovely quilt. In case of rain this will go to St. Paul's Parish Hall. Come and get your goodies or gifts.

We walk a good deal of the time to get the mail or to shop and wonder where the sewer gang got the fill as there are a great many loose stones along the sides of the roads and also the short-cut to Hyland Crest is still closed; wonder when it will be open. We know from experience, it is just a few minutes up that way but takes a long time if you have to go up through Mckayville.

Gardens seem to be coming along well and weather quite good most of the time. Take care: cheerio until next time.

Environment Ontario sponsors Haliburton cottagers conference

The second of three public workshops entitled 'Who Cares About Cottage Life' will be held at the Legion Hall, Saturday, July 9 at 7 p.m. in Haliburton Village, Paul Cockburn, Central Region director for Environment Ontario announced.

Mr. Cockburn urges cottagers as well as local residents to become involved in monitoring and in protecting the future of their cottage country. 'The people who use and enjoy Ontario's cottage country, have a responsibility in protecting this precious environment,' he said. 'Properly informed cottagers as individuals and through their associations can make a significant contribution to the future of their recreational lakes.'

Bill Balfour, chairman of the First Cottagers' Conference held in Bracebridge on June 25, was pleased with the favourable response. 'We were impressed by the enthusiasm and interest of the group,' he said. 'Many felt that it provided the best opportunity to date to discuss their particular environmental concerns with the Ministry staff who serve their cottage area.'

In Haliburton, local Ministry experts will lead discussions and answer questions on a range of cottage-related environmental concerns including:

- *Cottage pollution control program. This topic deals with the survey of cottage waste disposal systems and correction of any faulty systems.
- *Self-help for cottagers. This program offers cottagers a chance to test algae levels and clarity and work with Environment Ontario to monitor water quality in their own lakes.
- *Trace exotic contaminants such as mercury, PCBs and Mirex. This discussion covers sources of contamination and programs to monitor and deal with it.
- *Pest control. This discussion will include control methods for tent caterpillars, mosquitoes, blackflies and other pests and approaches to aquatic weed removal.

The final cottage workshop will be held in Peterborough on July 16.

'We're inviting cottagers to come to these free workshops, to learn something about their environment and to learn what we can do to help them protect their recreational assets,' Mr. Cockburn said.

Fraud brings fines for two

Two Peterborough men have been found guilty in Peterborough Provincial Court of defrauding the Unemployment Insurance Commission.

Appearing before Judge Collins on July 5th, 24 year-old Stephen H. Smith of Peterborough plead guilty to eight counts of giving false statements to the U.I.C. benefits while employed, during the months of May to August, 1976.

Judge Collins assessed a $50 fine on each offence.

Meanwhile, David Sloan, 22, of R. R. 1 Lakefield, pleaded guilty to seven counts of giving false information to the U.I.C. and was fined $50 on each count.

Sloan, too, had been employed while drawing U.I.C. benefits from December 1975 to March 1976.

BAZAAR AND SALE A SMASH HIT

Literally hundreds of enthusiasts crammed the Haliburton Highlands Senior Elementary School this past week for the Haliburton Guild of Fine Arts display and sale of crafts. While organizers have already termed this year's show a smashing success, it continues until this Sunday, July 17. Left to right: Top row: Dick Tuston of London displays his first-prize winning piece of jewelry; our photographer captures the many paintings on display; top centre: Kay Barry, Lorna Stackhouse and Ev Stata demonstrated the fine art of rug hooking while on the right is the winning pottery piece of Barbara Peel of Haliburton; lower centre, David Foster of Palmer Rapids won a design award for this stoneware piece while the photo on the right shows the Guild's display of pottery; bottom row, David Sutherland, President of Sir Sanford Fleming College addresses the crowd at the opening ceremonies while, on the right, Nila Reynolds, local author of 'In Quest of Yesterday' and 'Dream of Excellence' also speaks at last Wednesday's opening.

PLEASE...

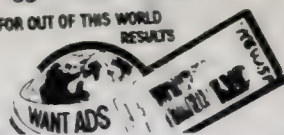

Some people call me old sad eyes but that's only a cover-up. Really I'm quite fun-loving, frisky, congenial and I love children. If I look a little sad it's because my master has no alternative but to give me away to a good home 'cause she's going away and there's no room for me. But let's not brood over that, I'll tell you the good news instead.

My name is Natasha, Tasha for short, and I'm a five year-old purebred Pyrenees - you know, one of those hardy dogs that works in Europe herding and so forth and so on. I've had my shots, although I'm due for another rabies shot soon, and I've got papers, too! Oh yes, I'm spayed, also. So if you're interested in a warm and loving pet give Don Wolfram a call at Animals in Distress (A.I.D.) at Mae's Bookstore in Minden. The numbers to call are 286-1369 or 754-2372.

C'mon folks give me a break, I'd like to be you're doggie in the window.

TROUBLESHOOTING CROPS

Need some help in troubleshooting crops? Your growing crop has a story to tell if you read the plant carefully and fill in a bit between the lines. Take a close look several times as your crop progresses throughout the season. This year's growing crop can give you some important clues on how you might improve present practices.

When something is wrong it is rather easily spotted early, when it can be compared with a normal plant alongside of it, or a normal crop in a near-by field. At maturity, only the after affects can be seen, the causes are much harder to determine.

CHECK LIST

1. Is the soil the same?
2. What crops were grown in each of the areas last year and the previous years?
3. Were the areas treated the same? i.e. time of plowing, seedbed preparation, rate of fertilizer, herbicides, etc.
4. What was the previous herbicide program? Could it be a carryover or is the problem a result of spraying this year?
5. Is one area tile drained?
6. Was the same variety used?
7. Were the areas planted at the same time?
8. Did the depth of planting vary?
9. Was there fertilizer damage because of contact with the seed?
10. Are insects present? Are diseases present?
11. Is the root system normal?

The same type of questions could be checked when looking at weed control. Soil type, time and rate of application of the herbicide, weed species present, rainfall, crop tolerance, adverse weather conditions, condition of sprayer and field when spraying, are all possible areas in which answers could be found if your weed control program did not work this year or if your crop was injured by herbicide.

Going hand in hand with trouble shooting crops is the keeping of records.

Start by drawing a map of the farm with all fields marked out and numbered. Then for each field, use that number for record sheets and soil testing. If the map is large enough, you can keep a running list of soil tests values written in on each field. This will allow you to see at a glance if your fertility level in a particular field is up or down.

Record sheets should be kept for each field for each year. Recorded on the sheet would be the field number, the crop, variety, date planted and the number of acres. All inputs can be recorded with their respective costs, rates of application and date of operation. Included in this section would be--seeds, fertilizers, insecticides, herbicides, tillage, planting, spraying, harvesting, etc., depending on the crop grown.

Also, included would be a cost factor for the land, crop insurance and other miscellaneous costs. Then by recording the yield and value of the crop at harvest, you can arrive at a net profit per acre for each crop and field. The back of the sheet can be used for making notes on particular problems--for example weeds, insects, diseases, weather etc.

TEST FEED NOW

The hot, dry weather of May and early June this year has reduced the yields of first cut hay on most farms in Victoria and Haliburton Counties. It did however, give ideal weather for harvesting hay during the first half of June, and a lot of farmers have high quality hay stored now.

Because the crop is short, it is important to feed this hay as efficiently as possible. One way to ensure efficient feeding is through feed analysis.

Also, how much grain, and how much protein supplement must be added to get a balanced ration for your cattle or sheep? With Soybean oil meal selling at over $300 per ton, no farmer can afford to feed more than is absolutely required. The only accurate way to ensure that you are feeding only the supplement required, is to have your hay and silage analyzed for their nutrient content. Analyzing home grown feeds is one of the services provided by the Ministry of Agriculture and Food through the County Agricultural Office. The office in Lindsay has the plastic bags, information sheets and also mailing envelopes necessary to send a feed sample to the laboratory in Guelph.

In addition, we have special 'coring' tubes for taking hay samples from bales - farmers are welcome to borrow these tubes.

The time to take your feed samples and get them tested is right NOW, as soon as you have the hay in the mow. Last year, most farmers waited until fall to send their samples, then had to wait longer for results as the lab couldn't handle them all at once.

There are 3 levels of testing available:

- (a) Test for dry matter and protein costs $5.00 per sample. (We recommend this one for beef, sheep and horse farms).
- (b) Test for dry matter, protein and the 4 main minerals--Calcium, Phosphorous, Magnesium and Potassium, costs $11.50 (We recommend this one for dairy farms)
- (c) Test for all of (b) plus manganese, copper and zinc costs $14.50. (This test is needed on farms where there are serious nutritional problems.) The results of this feed testing must be used to formulate a feeding ration. Dairy-men can have this done through the computerized Dairy Feed Formulation Service. Rations for other types of stock can be readily calculated by hand.

Further information on feed analysis and ration formulation is available from the Lindsay Agricultural Office.

Henry VIII of England is said to have had a total of 2,600 tapestries hanging in his various palaces.

SCOUTS BACK FROM "SUPER" JAMBOREE

A group of just 23 persons may not seem like much but bring together hundreds of such groups and you end up with a crowd of thousands. That's exactly what happened at the recent Canadian Boy Scouts Jamboree in Prince Edward Island where some 17,000 Scouts from all over Canada and around the world gathered for a 10-day Scouting celebration.

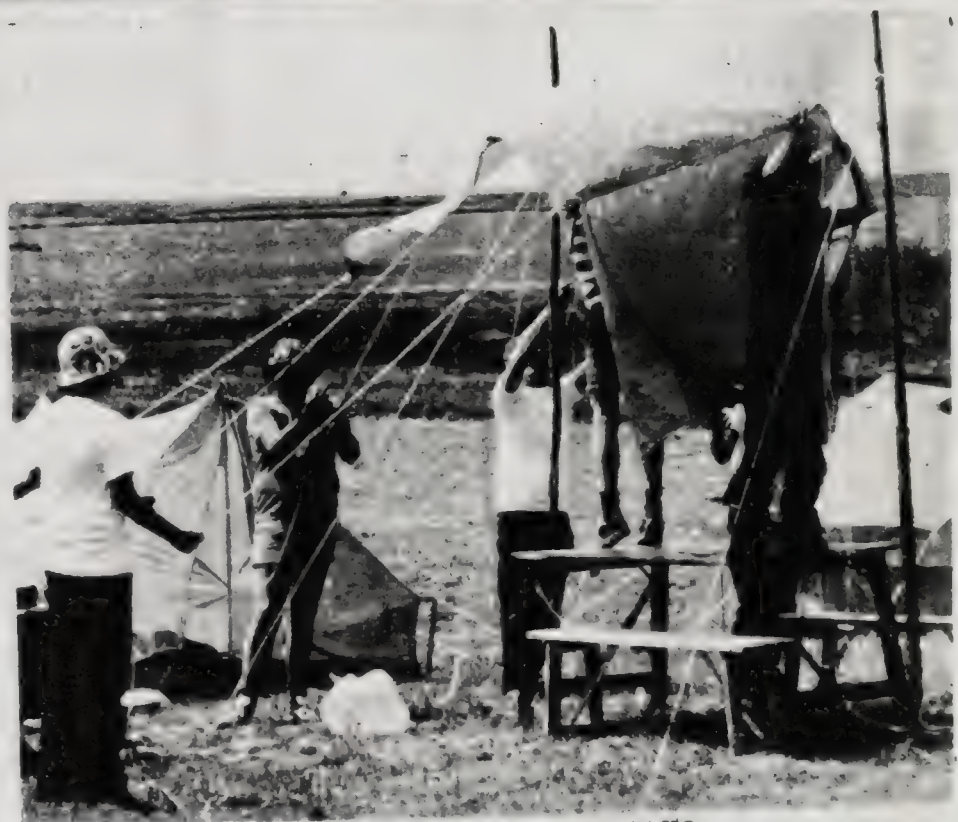

Cabot Park, where the Jamboree '77 was held, was a veritable tent city, as can be seen on the right. Reports from Minden and Haliburton Boy Scouts indicate that the Jamboree was a roaring success. Minden Scout Robbie Heywood jotted down some notes for us noting things that he found interesting and, sometimes amusing.

Robbie noted 'there is a CB in the bus and we are travelling along Highway 425 in Quebec - very slow.' Or how about 'Going under the St. Lawrence River at 3:55 p.m. - now out - stopped again for washroom break at 4:50 p.m.'. Further down the road Robbie noted that they had 'changed our clocks'. Upon arriving at the ferry at Moncton Robbie wrote 'It is big as heck.'

Later Robbie penned 'we all think it is a great experience.' And for all the concerned and anxious parents that was gratitude enough.

Owned and operated by John and Louise Denny it's located next to the offices of Ron Wrightman Realty in Minden. This is a true family effort with John and Louise's son Mark and daughter Sharlene pitching in as well as Louise's father Don Sinclair of Minden. This attractive market is well stocked with all types of fresh fruits and vegetables.
